55-year-old Enterprise man arrested for DUI Local teen killed, another critical following four-vehicle wreck in Houston County near Wicksburg

A four-vehicle accident in Houston County [near Wicksburg, Ala.] Monday afternoon, July 6, turned tragic for Coffee County as the wreck claimed the life of a 15-year-old female from New Brockton, Ala.

According to information released Monday night, the 15-year-old teenager was killed when a 2015 Nissan Altima in which she was a passenger was struck from behind by a 2010 Ford F150 being driven by Anthony Miquel Bishop, age 55, of Enterprise, Ala. The accident occurred on U.S. Highway 84 at the intersection of Alabama Highway 123, eight miles west of Dothan, Ala. at approximately 4 p.m. Bishop has since been arrested and was being held in the Houston County Jail [as of press time this week] on DUI charges.

Troopers said three additional occupants from the Nissan Altima were transported to Flowers Hospital in Dothan, and one of those passengers - a 17-year-old - remains in critical condition from injuries sustained in the accident.

The four occupants in the Nissan Altima were New Brockton High Schools students, and the school's Facebook page on Tuesday, July 7, had the following message posted:

"NBHS has suffered a terrible tragedy. We are heartbroken to say that four of our students have been in a car accident, and there has been one confirmed fatality. Another student is in critical condition at a local hospital."

Elba City Schools encouraging parents to submit "re-opening survey" by July 17

Elba City Schools encourages parents of Elba students to complete the "Elba City Schools Re-Opening Survey for Parents" which can be accessed by clicking on the link on the school's website [elbaed.edu] or from the Elba High School or Elba Elementary School facebook pages.

"Elba City Schools is working diligently to develop a plan for fall re-opening of schools," superintendent Chris Moseley said. "Your input is essential for ensuring our plan is created based on the needs of our students and families."

Foggy Bottom Cruisin' Car Show set for Saturday, July 11, in Elba

The 2nd Annual Foggy Bottom Cruisin' Car Show will be held this Saturday, July 11, in Elba, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The car show previously had been scheduled to be held in both March and May, however, the coronavirus health pandemic caused it to be canceled both times. Event organizers are excited to be able now to be able to move forward with the event and hold it Saturday in Elba!

This event is hosted by the Foggy Bottom Cruisers group, and all proceeds from the car show are donated to benefit the Elba Public Library.

The Foggy Bottom Cruisin' Car Show, which is held on the square in downtown Elba, will feature cars and trucks of all makes and models. There also will be arts and crafts vendors on site throughout the event.

Admission to the public is free!

Anthony Miquel Bishop, age 55, of Enterprise is the man charged with DUI following Monday's 4-vehicle wreck in Houston County that left one local teen dead and another teen in critical condition.

tal."

The post further called for the New Brockton community to join in a candlelight vigil Tuesday evening, at 7 p.m. in honor of these students. The vigil was planned to be held on the steps of the auditorium.

After the accident Monday, Bishop also was transported to Flowers Hospital, but he was released a short time later. He was arrested on the DUI charge after his release from the hospital Monday night. As troopers continue their investigation into this accident, officials with the Dothan Post said additional charges are pending against Bishop.

Troopers also said two other vehicles were damaged in this crash; however, no injuries were reported to the occupants of those two vehicles.

Administrators ask that one survey for EACH STUDENT that attends Elba City Schools be submitted. The survey will close Friday, July 17th.

For those interested in showing their vehicle in the show, there is a $20 entry fee, and registration is from 8-10 a.m. Saturday morning. Trophies will be presented to the winners.

For more information about entering a vehicle, contact Kenneth Calhoun at (334) 313-5505; and for more information about arts and crafts contact Larry Goodson at (334) 464-1613.

Reminder:

The 2020 State Primary Run-Off Election will be Tuesday, July 14, in Alabama. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

4TH OF JULY FIREWORKS LIGHT UP THE SKY IN DOWNTOWN ELBA! The City of Elba and Elba Chamber of Commerce presented its annual 4th of July fireworks show last Saturday night, July 4, at 9 p.m. from downtown Elba. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the city did not host its annual Let Freedom Ring event prior to the fireworks this year, so, the fireworks were moved to the old Miller Memorial Stadium [Foggy Bottom] in downtown Elba, which was part of the Elba High School campus until the 1990 flood of Elba. After that flood, Elba City Schools relocated from the downtown area to its current location, and a new football stadium was built on the new campus. Now, the front façade of the old Elba High School building in downtown Elba is a part of Elba's Tiger Town Park, which houses a playground, pavilions and splash pad for families to enjoy. Above, the 4th of July fireworks made a beautiful backdrop for the old high school façade at Tiger Town Park last Saturday night. The fireworks are presented each year by Elba native Mike Holderfield, and his more than 15-minute show did not disappoint again this year. (photo by Linda Hodge, Editor)

New Brockton Council approves applying for CDBG grant funds to assist with upgrade of sewage system lift stations

by Linda Hodge, Editor

During the New Brockton Town Council meeting held Monday evening, July 6, the council approved several resolutions paving the way to apply for a CDBG grant to assist with upgrades to three lift stations for the town's sewage system.

Upon recommendation of Mayor Kathy Holley, the council approved a resolution to apply for the small cities competitive funds for assistance through housing and development grant program for the upgrade of three lift stations. The council next approved a resolution authorizing the application for the sewer grant to upgrade three sewer lift pumping stations for a project amount of $350,000 with matching funds of $36,000 being applied by the New Brockton Water and Sewer Board. The final resolution on this matter was simply an acknowledgment that that Water and Sewer board owns and operates the sewage system but the Town of New Brockton is applying for the grant on behalf of the Water and Sewer Board.

Another resolution approved Monday night by council members was one appointed town clerk Debbie Andrews as the municipal election manager. Shortly after this appointment, Mayor Holley publicly announced the "Notice of Municipal Elections" for the Town of New Brockton to be held Tuesday, Aug. 25, 2020 for the offices of Mayor and City Council Person for District 1, District 2, District 3, District 4, and District 5.

Holley said qualifying for the municipal offices would begin Tuesday, July 7th. She said the qualifying fee for the office of mayor would be $50 and the qualifying fee for each city council member position would be $25. On Aug. 25th, the polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. for New Brockton voters.

The council unanimously approved an ordinance regarding unsafe structures and dangerous buildings within the town and the steps and guidelines to enforce for repairs of the structures, and demolition of said structures.

A look at the town's financials showed finances to be on solid ground, despite the recent COVID-19 pandemic.

Town clerk Debbie Andrews said the general fund had a balance of $320,478.23 at the end of June. She noted income for June was $76,395.24 while total expenses were $52,323.35.

Council members approved paying the regular monthly bills for July. This amount was estimated at just over $20,400 since many of those bills were not in-hand as of Monday night's council meeting.

The next New Brockton Council meeting is set for Monday, Aug. 3, at 6 p.m.

News Brief:

Elba Police arrested Genesis Harris, age 41, of Tacoma, Washington on Sunday, July 5th.

Harris was charged with domestic violence - 3rd degree, disorderly conduct, public intoxication, and possession of marijuana - 2nd degree. He was released from the Coffee County Jail on Monday, July 6, on a total bond of $2,800 for all charges [$1,000 for the domestic violence charge, $1,000 for the possession of marijuana charge, $500 for the disorderly conduct charge, and $300 for the public intoxication charge].

Wreath Placed on Grave of Revolutionary War Patriot...

In celebration of Independence Day, members of the John Coffee National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR) placed a patriotic wreath on the grave of Pvt. William Henry Harrison, Sr., (1758-1832), the only known Revolutionary War Patriot buried in Coffee County. He served in the fourth regiment of the Continental Line and in Major Brannen's Company under General Pickens, serving in the Edgfield District of South Carolina, moving with troops to Savannah and then near Augusta. Serving honorably throughout his terms of enlistment and at the conclusion of the war, he was honorably discharged. It is believed that he lived in Georgia before moving to Alabama. One of his sons is the famous "Dancing" Granger Harrison, whose story of fiddle playing and ghostly rituals is featured in "13 Alabama Ghosts" and is buried next to him in Harrison Cemetery near Kinston. Members attending the ceremony (from left) Regent Nell Gilmer, Chaplain Peggy Stroud and Vice Regent Jacque Hawkins. Anyone who knows of any other Revolutionary War Patriot buried in Coffee County or to find out more about the Daughters of the American Revolution organization, notify Jacque Hawkins, jhawkins07176@roadrunner.com or 334-470-7095.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"Good breeding consists of concealing how much we think of ourselves and how little we think of the other person." – Mark Twain

Ignaz Semmelweis, the obstetrical doctor at the Vienna General Hospital declared in 1846 that hand washing could prevent the spread of disease. His fellow professionals laughed at him, in spite of the fact that after the practice was put in place in one of the hospital clinics, the 10% death rate dropped drastically . . . to zero! Shortly after all this, the man was put in the insane ward because of his crazy ideas, where he died shortly afterwards (because of a hand infection that was not treated). Now here we are all these years later and many people still scoff at the practice of washing their hands to prevent the spread of COVID-19 and other infections. We just commented, not advocated, because of fear of having to occupy that empty bed in the insane ward.

The U.S. now ranks with Brazil, Sweden and Peru as having one of the world's most rapid virus growth rates. India is fast catching up. Still we routinely hear people comment that "this will all be over once the November elections are over". We fail to understand how someone, liberal or conservative, could set up this pandemic, sicken millions worldwide, kill some 10 or 15 percent of those sickened, all to influence an election in the United States. Plus cut it off once an election is over! Now, don't try to explain it, because we would shoot holes in your ideas – regardless of how heartfelt your pleas would sound.

The primary elections run-off deal was postponed until this month but now is the time to decide which of the candidates (only Republican in Coffee County) you would rather have in the office for the next few years. Many counties have both a Republican and Democrat run-off vote coming up, but neither Coffee nor any adjoining counties (oops, except Pike County) has anything but Republicans on the ballot. Our neighbors in Troy and Brundidge will have both Democrats and Republicans voting next Tuesday. The excitement over the three races in Coffee County would not wake a sleeping night owl! U S Senate candidate Jeff Sessions is taunting the early front runner Tommy Tuberville. Barry Moore is jabbing at Jeff Coleman in the U. S. Representative's race while (Appeals Court judge's race) Beth Kellum and Will Smith – well we don't have a clue what they are doing. Most of that back and forth is on social media with some TV spots scattered about.

City elections are officially set for August 25th, as per the legal notice published in The Elba Clipper last week. However as of three p.m. Tuesday of this week not a single candidate had qualified! That probably means they are being modest and/or waiting to see what the opposition will be in their individual race. We understand that the sitting council members are probably going to run for another term . . . District 4 will be an open council seat, as incumbent Tom Maddox has announced he plans to run for the mayor's slot. Anyone considering running for the city council and wants to know exactly where the district lines are may get that information at City Hall or they can view a map at the Elba Clipper office. It would probably be easier to visit the Clipper office as our pandemic rules are a little more relaxed.

Cautioning friends and family members to be careful while on the roads can never be overdone. However, even the safest person can be the second party in an automobile wreck. Case in point is the four Coffee County teenagers in that tragic wreck Monday afternoon while sitting at a traffic light in Houston County. They apparently did nothing wrong, but clearly that is not always enough.

Be Safe, Wear Your Mask and Wash Your Hands!

Cuzin Lou Lou's
Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's comments are best delivered using your biggest Southern drawl, lol!

Cuzin Lou Lou is drifting away from her usual light-hearted look at things this week because she is heavy-hearted... the news of the four-vehicle accident Monday afternoon in Houston County turned out to involve Coffee County teenagers. That has caused the heavy-heartedness for Lou Lou this week.

Cuzin Lou Lou learned the locals involved in the accident were students at New Brockton High School, which is less than 10 miles from her favorite place – Elba, Alabama. The chances are that Lou Lou does not know the teens involved in that wreck, but that does not keep her heart from aching for the families that either lost a loved one or are still praying hard for the recovery of another.

Accidents happen, but this one could have been avoided had it not been for, let's just say it like it is – what appears to be a stupid action by a grown man that should have known better! Lives will never be the same because of the man's actions. A 15-year-old girl that still had her life before her had that taken away – all because a 55-year-old man, someone that has been on this earth for more than half a decade, could not put the alcohol or drugs down [whichever caused him to be under the influence while operating a motor vehicle].

Because this man could not wait until he was home to enjoy his 'influence' four teenagers – children – that were seemingly doing everything right and not bothering anyone had their lives altered in a split second.

Daily, parents watch as their driving age teenagers walk out the door and get behind the wheel of the vehicle. Most likely every one of those parents says something like "be careful" to their teen as he/she heads out the door. An additional point of caution is "watch out for the other guy too!"

In the case of Monday's accident, watch out for the other guy was the problem! Being 'under the influence' and operating a motor vehicle is just wrong, plain and simple. When a person decides to do as it appears the man that caused this accident did, that person is not only taking a gamble with his/her own life, but he/she is saying another person's life is not worthy enough to him/her to not drive while under the influence.

Families and a community are mourning and are hurting today because an adult made that inconsiderate choice earlier this week.

If ever you are faced with the decision of "do I or do I not operate a vehicle under the influence of alcohol or drugs" – DON'T! It is not only your life you are gambling with, but you are stealing from innocent people if you mess up along the way.

Please join Cuzin Lou Lou in continuing to pray for the New Brockton community in the days ahead as these folks deal with the awful results of an accident that could have been prevented if only a man had said no to driving under the influence.

Lou Lou further prays this man seeks forgiveness and repents for his wrongdoings. No drink of alcohol or inhalation of a drug is worth taking another life.

Let's all hope from this tragedy comes a lesson for others to never drink and drive.

Until next time...God Bless!

Color-coded system guides COVID-19 reopening recommendations by ADPH

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) has introduced a new tool that allows policy makers and others viewing it to recognize the COVID-19 risk status in each county and to guide health behavior. The new COVID-19 Risk Indicator Dashboard is located on the ADPH website at alabamapublichealth.gov.

COVID-19 data has been collected since March 6 when State Health Officer Dr. Scott Harris issued an emergency order declaring COVID-19 reportable, which means that individuals and entities known as required reporters must notify ADPH within a specified timeframe of any case of COVID-19, and laboratories must report all negative and positive SARS-CoV-2 test results. Required reporters include healthcare providers, healthcare facility administrators and medical examiners.

Calculation for each county's risk of COVID-19 spread in the community is based on the increasing or decreasing trend in the number of new cases each day. The number of new cases each day is determined with a rolling 3-day average to account for fluctuations in reporting. The main indicator for decreasing risk of COVID-19 spread in the community is the number of days the county has experienced a downward trend of new cases. Several factors can influence a county's number of new COVID-19 cases, so other factors are examined to additionally inform the level of a county. A detailed explanation of how the overall risk level is determined is located on the COVID-19 Risk Indicator Dashboard. A color-coded state map displays four risk levels: very high, high, moderate and low indicated in red, orange, yellow and green, respectively. When a county is shown in green, it does not mean the public should resume their pre-pandemic activities; the green color just indicates a lower comparative risk in this ongoing process.

"We are committed to protecting the health and safety of Alabamians by giving guidance based on the best science and public health practices available," State Health Officer Dr. Scott Harris said. "We will continue to maintain and update the statewide data and metrics and provide consistent localized data for use in local decision-making for reopening plans."

Grieve the Way YOU Want To

Grieving the loss of a loved one is always hard—and we make it harder with the expectations we place on ourselves. All too often, people who are in mourning fear there is a "right" way to process their emotions, then kick themselves when they fall short of that standard. The grief journey is made exponentially more grueling by this sense of failure—the idea that you're somehow not measuring up.

The first thing you should know about grief is there's no one right way to do it; all of us express emotions differently, and that has everything to do with the way our brains are wired, nothing to do with how much we do or don't love the person who passed. For example, some people may weep throughout the mourning process, while others don't cry a single tear. Both are completely acceptable ways of dealing with bereavement. Similarly, some may want to be surrounded by friends, never to be left alone, while others may crave solitude. Again, both approaches are reasonable and natural.

One caveat to this: There's no one right way of dealing with grief, but there are a couple of bad ways. It's important to ensure your bereavement doesn't compromise your physical health, either because you stop eating, stop sleeping, or fall into self-medication. Additionally, dealing with grief means allowing yourself to feel and experience it. Trying to ignore your mourning, or to bottle it up in some way, can ultimately be self-destructive. Take care of yourself, and channel your heartache through positive means—but don't let anyone make you feel like your expression of grief is inadequate. That's not going to accomplish anything but making your bereavement more difficult.

CHURCH NEWS

Pastor's Corner

by Dr. John Granger, Director of Missions
COFFEE COUNTY BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Worship analogy viewed

Soren Kierkegaard once said modern people often have the wrong perception of worship. He gave the analogy of worshippers viewing what happens at church as their attempt at worship.

The analogy drew upon the idea that the pastor, singer, choir, organist and other leaders present a show. The congregation comes to enjoy or criticize the show. If the singing and sermon happen to be good, then the people are said to have had a good worship experience.

But what if the songs were ill-chosen and poorly done? What if, just one time, the pastor's sermon was not even close to the "10" rating? Would that mean God would be completely displeased with the entire worship of the congregation that day?

Kierkegaard suggested a better concept of worship would be to understand God as being the audience and the people in the pews as the actors. They come to present themselves before God. God is the one each worshiper should "play to."

The worship leaders may be regarded as prompters for the "actors," but they would be regarded as actors, too. God would be the one who would applaud or criticize the whole affair.

This insight seems appropriate today. Those who attend church have become so accustomed to spectacular events on television and at live performances, they tend to see worship as just another show.

My comments are not meant to defend shoddy efforts of worship leaders. They are meant to remind each reader that worship is ultimately a personal concern. Each one would do well to remember, that in worship, the audience is an actual and active part of the show.

 God's Nation

American Christians express concern about the drift of the United States away from God. These believers were anxious about God's judgment coming against the country as it had come against Israel. Other Christians tried to reassure the anxious ones, replying that the United States is not God's 'chosen' nation, and God's dealing with Israel was unique.

That is true, but it is not the whole truth. Israel and Judah were not the only nations that were destroyed because of their wickedness. The nations that lived in the land of Canaan before Israel came out of Egypt were destroyed so Israel could take their land - not because Israel's goodness, but because the other nations were too evil to be allowed to live (Deuteronomy 9:5). In addition to those tiny nations we can cite the huge empires of the Assyrians, the Babylonians, the Persians, the Greeks, and the Romans. One by one they became corrupt, and one by one they passed into the dustbin of history. History testifies that nations that become enemies of God do not survive.

Harper Blount graduates cum laude from University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Harper Blount

Harper Blount graduated cum laude May 1, 2020 from the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa with a Bachelor of Arts degree in communicative disorders. She was on the President's List for the Spring 2020 Semester with a GPA of 4.0. Harper was a member of Delta Zeta National Sorority. Harper's plans are to continue her education toward a Master's degree in speech language pathology in the fall at Faulkner University, Montgomery, Ala.

Harper is the daughter of Tiffany and Stephen Blount of Tuscaloosa and the granddaughter of Gloria and John Harper of Elba.

The Elba Masonic Lodge #170 recently awarded fourteen $1,000 college scholarships to area graduating high school seniors and college students. Nine of the awards were funded locally, and the others were funded by the Alabama State Lodge. The students may use the funds at universities for academic studies or at qualified trade schools to learn a trade. The awards were announced after the meeting was opened with a prayer by the Lodge members and the Pledge of Allegiance, led by the students. Pictured above are (front, l to r): State Deputy Grand Master Tommy Morrow, Scholarship winners, Tristyn Lauren Harrison, Kelcey Nicole Parks, Katyn Creel, Taylor Nicole Boswell, and Worshipful Master for Lodge 170 Ed Kelley; (back, l to r) Scholarship winners Tommy Ray Davis, EmmaLeigh Elizabeth Curtis, Kinley Laine Parker, Stone Dalton Hussey, Alunah Lynn Bunce, and Alexis Danielle Barker. All the scholarship students are from Coffee County except for Katyn Creel from Geneva County (Coffee Springs) and Tristyn Lauren Harrison from Andalusia.

Coffee County's Sample Ballot for July 14th Runoff Election

Due to the postponement of the originally scheduled March 31 Primary Runoff Election after the printing of ballots, the sample ballots, and all ballots used on election day, will contain the election's original date. However, Alabama's Primary Runoff Election will be held on Tuesday, July 14.

Coffee County Schools assistance in identifying all persons with disabilities

The Coffee County School System is in the process of identifying all persons with disabilities, ages 3-21 years, who are not enrolled in an educational setting, and all 0-3 year old children with disabilities.

Parents of a child with disabilities, or those who know of someone who is disabled, are asked to contact the principal of the local school or the special education coordinator's office at the Coffee County Board of Education at 334-897-5016.

It is important that all persons with disabilities be identified so appropriate services can be provided.

Contacts for the Coffee County School System include:

Tami Crosby, Special Services Coordinator, 334-897-5016

Kelly Cobb, Federal Programs Coordinator, 334-897-5016

Danny Branch, Principal, Kinston School, 334-565-3016

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson spent the weekend with us and it was just like old times as we talked about his favorite things to do, took turns trying to defeat villains on his video game and accompanied his Nanny to town on Saturday night to watch the fireworks show. Everything changes when he comes over, but believe me it is well worth it as we try to stay involved in his growing years.

For what it is worth....

 The high school sports world started turning again this week after a few days off for the holiday and the players and coaches are all working hard to get prepared for the coming seasons. Here at Elba, the Tigers were back on the practice field bright and early as they continued to learn new schemes on both offense and defense under the direction of their new coach, while the volleyball team was working hard to get in shape and the sound of balls bouncing off the wall and on the court could be heard, and the Lady Tigers were also back on the basketball court trying to get in some extra practice before the players head in different directions to become band members, cheerleaders and dance line performers. School will be back in session before you know it, and the start of the sports seasons won't be far behind.

 Area football fans will get the chance to watch a few more games this season as Charles Henderson announced last week that it had moved two games to Thursday in an attempt to give the folks at Troy University as extra day to sanitize dressing rooms and clean the stadium before the Trojans hit the field for Saturday games. The Greenville game scheduled for Friday has been moved to Thursday, Sept. 3, while the game against Andalusia has been moved to Thursday, Sept. 17. Charles Henderson plays all its home games in the Vet, on the campus of Troy University, which is without a doubt one of the best high school stadiums in the state, and made the move to help everyone stay safe.

 The website AL.com recently published a sports article proclaiming the top high school football teams over the past decade, and as expected most of the teams were larger schools. The list was compiled using a points system based upon state titles, appearances in state finals, and final state rankings, and even though it really meant nothing, it did provide fans with good reading. Hoover was ranked #1, as expected with 5 state titles and two runner-up finishes in the ten-year span, while Spanish Fort was second with four state titles and one runner-up finish. St. Paul's and UMS-Wright both made the list, but no smaller schools, not even Fyffe, made the list. Oh well, it was worth reading.

 There has been a lot of buzz about Cam Newton joining New England and how it wasn't right that the former NFL MVP had to settle for a measly $1.05 million contract. Newton had earned $121.4 million in his first nine years in the league with Carolina, but was injury prone over the past two seasons and released. Newton can cash in bonuses for making the team and having a solid year statistically, but will make only a little over $100,000 per game if activated. I agree the salary isn't what many other quarterbacks make in the league, but I still have a hard time believing anyone is worth the salary to be made by Seattle qb Russell Wilson, who will haul in over $3 million per game this season. I'm sorry, but the enormous salaries made by pro athletes has turned me off.

 In closing.... I was beginning to think the fish at the Coffee County Lake were wearing masks last week until one angler came in late Saturday afternoon with two crappie that weighed over two pounds apiece. The fish were shiny silver and were the biggest I have seen in years. I guess maybe the crappie didn't get the message from the health experts.

Two Zion Chapel teams qualify for state championships in late-July Zion Chapel Bass Team members returned to the water in June for second half of BASS Nation tournament season

Due to COVID-19 the Zion Chapel Bass Team has been missing its tournament fishing. As a matter of fact, the team was in route to Lay Lake for their March tournament and received a call from Alabama BASS Nation High School headquarters informing them the tournament had been cancelled due to the COVID-19 mandates. Thus, they turned around in Montgomery and headed home with much disappointment.

Although the team members were disappointed, they were reminded there could be more serious calls. On this note, the ZC Bass Team extends their thoughts and prayers to the families of two high school bass anglers and their captain of the Obion County Central High School in Pickwick on the Tennessee River. This team was fishing in a tournament and never returned for the weigh-in. It was almost two weeks before all the bodies were recovered. This is a reminder of the importance of following all safety rules, but accidents can happen.

Although the team has not been able to fish together during these difficult times, the young men have been busy. Some were able to attend the BASSMASTER CLASSIC in Birmingham as spectators in March. They enjoyed seeing the displays of many vendors and were able to meet some of the pros.

During these unsettling times, BASSMASTER launched a new initiative called "Live Smart, Fish Smart." With states enforcing more and more restrictions daily, those with a passion for the outdoors have been searching for ways to stay connected to the things they love. BASSMASTERS has tried to stay connected to young anglers by sharing videos and activities to help them improve their skills.

BASSMASTER NATION, High School and College Anglers were encouraged to support this new initiative by sending photos and videos of their fishing, spending time with family, or working on a project at home. BASSMASTER shared these for other anglers to enjoy and stay connected.

As individuals, not as a team, some of the ZC anglers and their boat captains continued wetting lines and catching some big ones. In other words, Quarantine 2020 kept the ZC anglers from fishing as a team, but the young men found some small local tournaments to fish for practice.

ZC anglers weighed in 12 lbs. and caught the biggest spot when they fished at Lake Jordan the first weekend in May. That same weekend some team members had good luck while turkey hunting. These young guys are true outdoorsmen.

On May 8th, the Alabama BASS Nation High School Staff announced the second half of the season would kick off. In the announcement to continue this journey, many things were changed due to the current situation. They were required to implement new measures as precaution for anglers, staff, and public safety.

Regardless of the more stringent guidelines, the ZC Bass Team began making plans to participate in their first tournament since COVID-19. They were scheduled to fish at Lay Lake, Clanton, Ala., on June 20, 2020.

In the meantime, a few of the ZC anglers participated in the "clean-up" challenge on Lake Eufaula, June 13th. This was an opportunity for the anglers to display their commitment to conservation of aquatic and natural resources. This event was sponsored by BASS Nation who strongly encourages young anglers to be mindful of ways to conserve our natural resources.

The team's first tournament since COVID-19 looked so different. No spectators were allowed at launch and weigh-in. Supporters were able to watch live on Facebook. The launch began at 5:00 am with the playing of the national anthem, and the weigh-in began at 1:00 pm.

The ZC anglers' finishes were not what they had hoped they would be, but that is tournament fishing. They experienced troubles that cost them fish (broken live well, broken rods, and spots previously fished came up empty). However, these determined anglers never gave up; they fished until the last minute.

With 130 boats competing, Team Dowdy/Jacobs finished 76th place with a limit of three fish weighing 4.37 lbs. Team Padgett/Young finished 48th place with a limit of Ethan Young and Avery Padgett went fishing at Lake Jordan as individuals the first weekend in May, and they weighed in 12 lbs of bass from this trip.

While some of their ZC fishing buddies were on Lake Jordan the first weekend of May, Trevor Lee and Kevin Dowdy decided to take to the woods and brought home this turkey from their hunting trip.

Avery Padgett and Ethan Young were among the participants in a "clean-up" challenge June 13th on Lake Eufaula. This was an opportunity for the anglers to display their commitment to conservation of aquatic and natural resources.

three fish weighing 6.32 lbs., but they had a dead fish due to a broken live well and ended with 6.07 lbs. after the penalty.

This was the first year as the Zion Chapel Bass Team, and at the end the year, their results show these anglers finished well. There were 214 high school boats that fished this tournament trail. The team of Padgett/Young finished 21st, team Devos/Lee finished 40th, and team Dowdy/Jacobs finished 85th. As a result of these finishing numbers two of the ZC teams qualified to compete in the state high school championship at Lake Guntersville July 24th and 25th. These teams are anxious to finish their season well and get ready for the next year of competition.

The new schedule has been released. They are looking forward to another year of competition fishing.

Avery Padgett and Ethan Young finished in 48th place at Lay Lake with a limit of three fish weighing 6.32 lbs., but a dead fish due to a broken live well caused reduced their weigh-in to 6.07 lbs. after the penalty.

Kevin Dowdy and Landon Jacobs finished 76th place at the Lay Lake tournament with a limit of three fish weighing 4.37 lbs.

Trevor Lee and Kaleb DeVos finished 108th place with a weigh-in of 1.56 lbs. at Lay Lake.

Local students receive Academic All-State recognition at Northeast Mississippi Community College

Northeast Mississippi Community College's student-athletes thrived scholastically during the 2019-20 school year despite disruptions to the traditional learning environment.

Fifty men and women representing each of Northeast's competitive athletic programs were honored with Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) Academic All-State distinction.

Among the Northeast student-athletes that were recognized as Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges (MACJC) Distinguished Academic All-State were:

- Jake Kilcrease, Golf, GPA 3.53, Brantley, Ala.; and
- Dylan Moulton, Golf, GPA 3.69, Kinston, Ala.

Elba's superintendent discusses 'plan for reopening schools' with board members during special meeting

The Elba Board of Education met Tuesday night, July 7, for a special meeting, and during that meeting Superintendent Chris Moseley discussed with board members the administration's "Plan for Reopening" the schools.

Some of the highlights from that plan included:

- Elba City Schools will open on time, Thursday, August 6, 2020 and will remain open for students and follow the current approved school calendar.
- It is highly encouraged that all medically cleared students attend school in person.
- There will be distance learning opportunities for students whose parents choose to keep them at home. These students will remain enrolled at Elba City Schools and take virtual classes provided by the ALSDE.
- It is strongly encouraged parents that are thinking of doing the distance learning options to contact the child's school and speak with administration and learn more about the programs before making a final decision.

Any parents that do elect to keep their children at home and receive distance learning will need to remain virtual for the entire nine-week grading period. At the end of the nine-week grading period they may choose again to either remain virtual or come back to the traditional setting.

It is strongly encouraged that parents check temperatures before students leave the house. If the temperature is at 100° keep the student at home and contact the school.

Elba City Schools will begin the year checking all temperatures at the entrances. Students with a temperature will move to a room to be assessed by the nurse and temperatures will be rechecked. If the temperature has remained the school will then notify a parent/guardian to pick the student up.

Elba City Schools will have hand sanitizer stations located throughout both buildings.

Elba City Schools encourage students, staff and anyone coming on campus to wear facial coverings while on campus. "We are not saying that students and staff are required to wear these all day," Moseley said. "However, there will be certain times during the day that it is strongly encouraged that they be worn."

Elba City Schools will begin the year limiting visitor access and continue as it has during the summer with curbside assistance from the office staff at both schools. The school understands there will be times visitors must enter the building, and again it is asked they please wear facial coverings.

Elba City Schools strongly encourages students riding a bus wear facial covers for the ride. Also, if a child rides a bus and parents are able to bring them by vehicle this is also highly encouraged to begin the year.

All teachers will be provided with protective shields in their classroom to provide instruction. The school system also is getting upgrades in restrooms, such as, touchless faucets and touchless hand dryers to make those areas safer for students.

USDA reminds producers to complete crop acreage reports

Agricultural producers in Coffee County must complete crop acreage reports by the July 15, 2020, deadline.

Susan Tranum, county executive director with USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA), says the July 15, deadline applies to perennial forage, CRP and all other crops.

"To make sure you're eligible for many USDA programs, you need to file an accurate crop acreage report by the applicable deadline," said Tranum. "Our team here in Coffee County is standing by to help you with your acreage reports, including providing maps."

Due to the pandemic, FSA has implemented acreage reporting flexibilities. To complete your acreage report, call the Coffee County FSA office to schedule an appointment. FSA can work with producers to file timely acreage reports by phone, email, online tools and virtual meetings. The Coffee County office is not open for in-person appointments.

The Coffee County FSA office will provide maps to producers along with instructions for completing and returning the maps through either mail or email. After planting is complete, producers must return the signed form certifying their acreage report to

Alabama State games coming to Coffee County

Few things unite and thrill us quite like sporting together. Across all ages and interests, the rush of competition inspires us to be our best selves. Even so, throughout the early half of 2020, the absence of televised sports and local league play seemed as though it might never end.

But our sporting traditions, much like our spirits, can be hard to keep down.

This year, despite heavy odds, The ASF Foundation invites citizens of all ages to come together once more for the XXXVIII meeting of the Alabama State Games. Hosted by Dothan, Ozark, Enterprise, and the greater Wiregrass Region from July 31st–August 2nd, the 2020 games present a prime opportunity to get back into the world for exercise, competition, and—most importantly—healing through community.

With two dozen sporting events and divisions ranging from 6 years of age and under to 80 years of age and up, the Alabama State Games encourage the Olympic spirit of excellence in every Alabamian.

The Sports

Modeled after the Olympics, the Alabama State Games awards medals to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places. A diverse assortment of sporting opportunities provides each and every athlete with a venue for their athletic passions.

Age ranges vary from sport to sport and proof of age (copies of birth certificates, state-issued ID, or military ID) is required. Application fees also vary depending on the specific event.

Residents of Alabama qualify. Residents of other states can participate unless it interferes with their state's State Games.

The History

In 1982, the United States Olympic Committee requested that each state create its own model to encourage athletic participation and wellness through competition. Hoping to spread the Olympic spirit throughout statewide communities, the ASF Foundation heard the call.

The inaugural Alabama State Games took place that same year in Auburn, Alabama. Since then, both the games and the ASF Foundation have expanded the original mission to include mentorship, public service, academic excellence, and enthusiastic athletic participation.

Through the invaluable help of hundreds of volunteers each year, the ASF rekindles the Olympic flame through State Games and local youth initiatives. Medical volunteers, sports judges/referees, presenters, event assistants, and more are needed to help keep the games fair and flourishing. Opportunities are available for every interested citizen.

The Cause

The ASF Foundation is a non-profit organization

committed to mentoring, leadership, and making a positive community impact. Aside from the Alabama State Games, the ASF Foundation works with local, state, and private entities to teach our youth the importance of academics, athletics, healthy lifestyles, and good citizenship.

The ASF Foundation encourages mentoring in a number of programs and events. Each year, outstanding high school students from across the state are selected by their schools to participate in the ASF student ambassador program. Opportunities are created for student ambassadors to take the lead in their communities, learning communications, public relations, and public speaking skills.

Each year, the Athlete Leadership Summit proceeds the State Games' opening ceremony and is open to all athletes, coaches, parents, and volunteers in attendance. Previous speakers have included former Olympians and legendary coach Bobby Bowden.

In keeping with the Alabama State Games spirit of athletic excellence, the ASF's Wee Can Fight Obesity Program invested over $850K for cutting-edge exercise equipment and technology for local schools. In partnership with the Alabama Department of Education, ASF incorporated the latest video gaming technology to get our students moving and to teach them the importance of activity and wellness.

Through donations and the funds received through the State Games registration and attendance, the ASF Foundation has been able to award over $300,000 in academic scholarships to the State of Alabama.

ASF has also partnered with State Farm Insurance, the ADPH, ALDOT, Children's Hospital, among other groups, to present the UrKeys2Dry Teen Driving Summits to encourage students to avoid distracted and impaired driving, and to encourage seat-belt usage. Over 1,200 students from all over Alabama were reached through these Summits last year.

The Thrill of Sports & Community Involvement

The Alabama State Games draw an average of 6,000 athletes including seniors and individuals with disabilities. The opening ceremony features a parade of athletes and hosts an average of 10,000 individuals in attendance.

This year, every Alabamian has the opportunity to shake off months of sitting on the couch by competing, volunteering, or simply turning up to watch. Proceeds from the games go directly to making Alabama a better place to live, work, compete, and grow.

Visit Dothan is a proud sponsor of the 2020 XXXVIII Alabama State Games. Check out Dothan's restaurants or book your accommodations today.

Together, we can keep the Olympic flame alive in the hearts of Alabama's citizens.

Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo July 17-19 at Dauphin Island

by DAVID RAINER,
Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources

The Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo (ADSFR), the largest saltwater tournament in the nation, will revert to its roots for the 87th rodeo, scheduled July 17-19 at the rodeo site on Dauphin Island.

Because of the COVID-19 restrictions, the ADSFR will concentrate strictly on the great fishing along the Alabama Gulf Coast, which harkens back to the early days of the rodeo when a group of dedicated tarpon anglers assembled on Dauphin Island for the initial events.

As safety precautions, ADSFR 2020 President Cory Quint said the rodeo will not hold the Liars Contest on the Thursday night before the rodeo. Also, the sponsors' tent and the fish viewing area will not be available for the 2020 rodeo. The music entertainment has also been dropped for this year. However, the Roy Martin Young Anglers Tournament set for July 11, 2020, will be held as planned.

"First and foremost, we're a fishing tournament at heart," Quint said. "Everything else we do is what we call 'the show,' which means we make it family friendly and appealing to other people outside of anglers."

Many people are not aware of how much work goes into hosting the ADSFR, which attracts more than 3,000 anglers to the small barrier island in south Mobile County. Quint said normal rodeo preparation for the next year's event starts about a month after the rodeo has fired the cannon to signal the end to the event.

"We are kind of going back to our roots as a fishing tournament. But I don't want people to be confused about our rodeo site. It is still open. If you want to come see somebody weigh in, look at the boats or watch a sunset, you can still do that. We just can't give people a reason to congregate. All we're asking from the anglers is to be mindful of social distancing and be respectful of the Town of Dauphin Island. They really did do us a favor by allowing us to have the rodeo this year."

Jeff Collier has been the Mayor of Dauphin Island for the past 22 years and knows what the rodeo means to Dauphin Island in terms of retail sales and rental income. With the exception of a couple of years during World War II, anglers have gathered on the island for fishing festivities.

"The rodeo is such a historic event. This is the 87th rodeo. Any community would be happy to have them as part of the community. But, at the same time, we also commend them, because I think what they're doing under these circumstances is the right and responsible thing to do."

During a normal three-day rodeo, more than 75,000 people visit Dauphin Island for the fishing or the show. The absence of that traffic is definitely going to impact the businesses and rental properties.

"With this COVID situation, a lot of our small mom-and-pop businesses need all the help and support they can get," Mayor Collier said. "The rodeo was one of those times they could benefit when the times were good. With a population of about 1,250 permanent residents on the island, you can see what bringing 75,000 people onto the island would have in terms of economic impact. It's a big event. It covers as much as four days, so it has a big impact on our small community.

"But I do still think it will be a good event. People who do come down, we want them to act responsibly. We're encouraging people to wear a face covering. We're not requiring it, but we're encouraging it. As we say, we want to be part of the solution not part of the problem."

One change has been made in the ADSFR tournament categories. Rodeo anglers have 30 species of fish eligible to weigh in at the rodeo. However, red snapper is no longer on that list. The Alabama Marine Resources Division, which manages Alabama's share of the red snapper quota in the Gulf of Mexico, announced this week that the last day of the 2020 season will be July 3 to ensure the quota is not exceeded. Red snapper has been replaced by lane snapper on the rodeo's eligible fish list. Quint said that obviously also eliminates the Red Snapper Jackpot.

Mayor Collier was not shocked that the red snapper season had to be cut shorter than originally planned.

"With the coronavirus thing, people were itching to get outside," he said. "There were a lot of boats out, and everybody I talked to had good catches. It doesn't surprise me one bit."
